1907 [c.]

Abstract / From the Robin Catalogue:

Description: A. MS., G-c.1907-1b, pp. 2-12.

Apparently still another attempt at the article for The Nation. Published, in part: 5.5-10. In the unpublished part CSP writes of his “personal peculiarity, which prompts him to struggle against every philosophical opinion that has recommended itself to him before he definitely surrenders himself to it,” and hence of his relative lack of bias in his discussions of pragmatism.
