

First-Intentional Relation

1901-1902 [c.] | Definitions for Baldwin's Dictionary [R] | MS [R] 1147

A first-intentional relation is one the concept of which may be formed by direct generalization and abstraction from observations of its relates.