

Seed

1903 | Nomenclature and Divisions of Dyadic Relations | CP 3.576

By a seed (granum) of an existential relation is to be understood an existing individual which not only stands in that relation to some correlate, but to which also some relate stands in that relation.