

News item. Retrieved from
<http://www.commens.org/news/item/workshop-exploring-connections-ethics-social-thought-and-religion>, 02.04.2025.

Category: Academic Meeting

Title: Workshop: Exploring connections in ethics, social thought, and religion

Description: Organised by Chaire de métaphysique et de philosophie de la connaissance, Claudine Tiercelin (Collège de France), and Bob Stern (University of Sheffield).

Programme:

21st May 2015

- 10.30-11.00 Coffee
- 11.00-12.30 Robert Tallise, "(What) Can Pragmatists Think About Justice? On a Certain Blindness in Pragmatist Political Philosophy"
- 12.30-13.30 Lunch
- 13.30-15.00 Matthew Festenstein, "Unprincipled Pragmatism"
- 15.00-15.15 Coffee
- 15.15-16.45 Axel Honneth, "The 'Social' in Hegel and Dewey"

22nd May 2015

- 10.00-11.30 Cheryl Misak, "Idealism's Smile of Contempt: Peirce on Pragmatism and Idealism"
- 11.30-11.45 Coffee
- 11.45-13.15 Michael Quante, "'Wirklichkeit' Within Ascriptivism: Hegel's Concept of the Will"
- 13.15-14.15 Lunch
- 14.15-15.45 Philip Kitcher, "The Centrality of Social Philosophy: Dewey's Vision"

Date: 21/05/2015 to 22/05/2015

Place: Collège de France, Paris

Link: Workshop